

How can we help you fundraise during and after Covid-19?

For many charitable organisations the Covid-19 pandemic has added increased pressure on charitable fundraising and income generation. Many charities are looking for new and incremental sources of income to contribute towards lost donations and trading activity.

Functioning in a society which is becoming increasingly cashless, it is important to keep up with this development whilst at the same time keeping control of the donations made to your charity.

With this in mind we've developed the LibertyPay Donation Portal giving you multiple options to request donations, increase your fundraising potential and keep track of activity.
